Dionna Scales

Lead 35*2 Free Financial Coach

Dionna Scales has always been passionate about giving people the tools to get from where they are to where they want to be in their careers. She is a skilled career coach and engaging training facilitator and is comfortable delivering a wide range of training topics. Years ago, Dionna became fascinated with personal finance and is a total nerd about budgeting. That fascination soon became a passion, which led Dionna to seek a personal finance coaching certification through Dave Ramsey's Financial Coach Master Training program.

Now, in addition to leading Diversity, Inclusion and Belonging and Learning & Development at BuzzFeed, Dionna serves as a Financial Coach focused on helping clients get organized, get out of debt and create a solid plan for today and their future.
