

THE PROSP(A)RITY PROJECT

Pursuing prosp(a)rity by defeating disparity.

Johan Van Der Beeghe

CFO, The Corona Self-Help Center Inc.

Johan is currently the CFO of The Corona Self-Help Center Inc., where his responsibilities include finance, budgeting, the supervision of proper bookkeeping in accordance to GAAP principles, providing yearly operational budgets of $3 million approximately, and payroll creation.

Additional responsibilities include strategic development—namely the statistical analysis of all fundraising campaigns, installation and maintenance of the policies and procedures manuals, and the acquisition and regulation of all state licenses and registrations.

Johan graduated from Baruch College in 2011 with a Bachelor of Arts in Finance and Investments then NYU in 2014, attaining a non-credit course in accounting for nonprofits. Afterwards, he acquired a medical coding and billing certificate from Hunter College in 2016.

He is currently pursuing a Master's Degree in Nonprofit Management from Columbia University and recently came onboard with The Prosp(a)rity Project, offering assistance with governing bylaws and financial oversight.
